" 'Inspirational', 'captivating' and 'a pure delight' are the most frequent terms applied to Robin's time with us...the Franco Centre heard their concert Steinway taken to new heights and the attendees of the music therapy workshop were given a glimpse of the power of music in all areas of the healing process. Everyone who attended was so complimentary and enthusiastic that we have received a number of enquiries as to return dates..." - Andrew Harris, LA Arts

"Robin is not your 'typical' piano artist. She has a way of making the audience feel like they are part of the concert. Robin is a fabulous pianist...piano instructors commented on her technical skills and creative compositions. Robin attended a pre-concert fundraising reception and visited with nearly everyone in attendance. She also hosted a meet-and-greet following the concert. Several in attendance commented on how easy she was to talk with and how much they enjoyed the concert." -Laurel A Canan/Janesville Performing Arts Center (WI)

"Thank you for your wonderful performance last weekend at the kick off of the Appleton Museum of Art's Spring Concert Series. Your show was flawless and it was obvious that our capacity crowd enjoyed the music, your entertaining stories, and meeting you afterward. We hope to have you back for a return engagement in the near future." - Stephen Specht, Event Coordinator (FL)

"Robin, It was an absolute pleasure having you here. Rave reviews by all! Thank you too for being so easy to work with! We'd love to have you back again in the future! Best wishes to you and your family." Jennifer Eubanks, Village Theater/Canton, MI.

"Dear Robin and Larry,

It was a pleasure to have you play our hall last week. People are still talking about it and hope that we can work something out again next year....it is always great to meet folks who are as professional as the two of you have been throughout the whole experience. Robin, you are a very talented person who I know will go far in this business because you take the time to care about your art and patrons. Thank you again for such a fantastic night of music and stories."

- Jan Zarr, Executive Director of The Dunn Center (North Carolina)

"Robin's lovely performance at St. Clair Memorial Hall last Saturday night is still resonating throughout our community. Robin not only plays wonderfully and is a masterful storyteller, but also her warm-hearted presence permeates the space where she performs and then lingers within the hearts and minds of her audience as they return to their homes and neighborhoods, continuing to touch lives long after the actual sound of music has ceased.

Robin's generosity of spirit also enhanced the Music Therapy workshops she presented, which were quite effective in every sense. Our community learned about the benefits of this healing discipline, several people who attended the workshop were moved to buy tickets to the concert, and at the concert's intermission one of our regular patrons confided that she was fascinated by the concept of Music Therapy and intended to seek out more information.

And of course, Robin made friends wherever she appeared; I'm sure that the downtown business owners are remembering her short time among us as with as much fondness as are her audience and presenter. Working with you and Robin has been a distinct pleasure; thank you for all of your efforts which helped make Robin's engagement in Greenville such a resounding success. All my best," - Marilyn Delk (Darke County Arts/Greenville, OH) Spring

"Rarely does the Jasper Community Arts Commission present an artist sight unseen. Luckily we took your advice and booked Robin Spielberg for a public performance, a high school master class and a special hospital workshop for caregivers and medical professionals. Robin is a gifted artist, composer, storyteller, and a very savvy communicator. Robin plays a story into your heart as well as she plays her music into your soul....our audience members wanted to meet her, share their stories with her, and most important they wanted to know when she is coming back to our community." - Donna Schepers/Jasper Community Arts Commission (Indiana)

"The stories she tells really enhance the experience for the audience. She does beautiful stuff...one of the things that sticks out the most was that she had this following...and I think every person that came out of that room had a smile on their face....that says a lot about an artist". - Jane Stein/Berrie Center for the Arts, Mahwah, New Jersey

"Friday morning's outreach program to the local elementary kids was incredible. There is nothing like seeing one hundred kids sitting on the state around a Steinway captivated by music and the art of making music...Equally impressive was the master class on Music Therapy. For the first time in the history of the Juniata College Artist Series we had over six hundred people attend the performance of a solo pianist ..Robin, this is something I am extremely proud of your music and the stories you share on stage behind your music captivate your audience. This is a tremendous talent and I was honored to present Robin Spielberg to Central Pennsylvania". - Chad Herzog, Director, Juniata College Artist Series

"She is a dynamic performer that brings just the right emotion to each piece that she performs. Her range of reaching audiences is demonstrated by the success she had with the hospital staff at Reid Hospital and Health Care Services, the school children who attended the show for elementary students, and the audience at the public performance. Each patron felt the power and emotion of her artistry" - Stu Sector/Civic Hall Performing Arts Center; Richmond

"Dear Robin, Thank you for the exquisite concert you performed at the Kerr Cultural Center on Saturday evening. Your music is beautiful and your commentary enlightening and entertaining. Add these elements to the musical selections you chose to perform, and one has the ingredients for a totally wonderful evening. It goes without saying that the audience was also most appreciative, as exhibited by their many favorable comments and reluctance to leave the Studio at the conclusion of the evening's concert". - Nannette Taylor, Arizona State University
